

PABLO ESTEBAN DURAN

It is my duty to report the untimely death of our classmate, Pablo E. Duran, in an accident involving a private plane off the coast of Panama. The information we have received is that Pablo was enroute from Conta Island to his home in Panama City. With him were two sons and another passenger, none of whom survived. The accident has been reported to be weather related, as there was a heavy storm in the area at the time. Pablo is survived by his widow, Estella Duran.

Shipmate, September, 1988