

Peyton Randolph Latimer

Peyton "Pete" Randolph Latimer, 76, died May 29 2014 in Sarasota, FL of prostate cancer. Pete was born to the late Rear Admiral Samuel Edwin and Mary Kensett Reese on May 25, 1938 in Alexandria, VA.

He graduated from the United States Naval Academy in 1960, later earning the rank of Lieutenant Commander in Admiral Rickover's fleet of nuclear submarines. He married the late Diane Dooley in 1960, and they lived most of their married life together in the New York City region.

After he left the Navy, Pete was a financial executive at Chemical Bank followed by lengthy tenures at The Singer Company, Burlington Industries, and Mellon Bank.

A lifelong athlete, Pete served as a trustee and active member of the Athletic and Scholarship Programs of the USNA Foundation, as Co-Chair of the Friends of Navy Squash, and as Board President of Town Tennis in NYC.

Pete is survived by his life partner, Sidsel Fox; his two children, Bronwen and Jonathan; his sons-in-law, Simon Bruty and Joseph Carter; his two grandchildren, Grace and Maggie Bruty; his brother, Sam, and his sister-in-law, Gay.
