Battalion Parties

Because of the on-going attrition in our ranks, it probably makes best sense to focus our efforts on Battalion (rather than Company) parties this time around. Toward that end, our Class VP Bob Osmon will be coordinating the total effort, with Battalion reps making the actual arrangements for their respective battalions. In doing so, it would be ideal to find a room at a classy restaurant with space enough to accommodate your numbers (and where one is able to order from the menu). Try to avoid guaranteeing a specific number of participants; but if that isn't possible and you happen to overestimate your turnout, the Class treasury will absorb any penalty fees.

Other

As in the past, we will develop a more detailed gouge for your reference in the days ahead. Meanwhile, thanks for your cooperation and patience along the way.
